

Sponsor Women in Data Science Chicago

WiDS Chicago is an independent event organized by a team of Chicago-based data scientists in industry and academia to support the mission of Women in Data Science (WiDS) Worldwide.

WiDS Worldwide aims to inspire and educate data scientists and support women in the field by providing an opportunity to hear the latest data science research and applications while connecting with peers and leaders.

WiDS Chicago is a conference typically held in the spring in downtown Chicago at a venue with space for 200 attendees. The attendee mix is generally 60% professionals and 40% graduate students. The event typically includes a panel, talks from prominent female data scientists, and networking opportunities.

We are seeking funding to cover the costs of a venue, as well as food and drinks for our networking hour, branded conference swag for attendees, speaker gifts, and a pre-event speaker dinner.

Sponsorship Benefits:

- Support and inspiration for women in data science.
- The opportunity to align your corporate goals and initiatives with our mission.
- Branded recognition for your company, products, and services on our website and other materials.
- Networking opportunities and a chance to engage directly with attendees on behalf of your organization.
